EU Social Dialogue

The European social dialogue is a fundamental element of the European social model that is formally recognised by the EC Treaty. It encompasses the discussions, consultations, negotiations and joint actions undertaken by the social partner organisations representing the two sides of industry (workers and employers). In particular, at Community level, workers are represented by the European Trade Union Confederation (ETUC) and European employers are represented by three different organisations: the Confederation of European Business (BUSINESSEUROPE formerly UNICE), the European Centre of Enterprises with Public Participation and of Enterprises of General Economic Interest (CEEP) and, following a cooperation agreement signed in 1998, the European Association of Craft Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises (UEAPME), which participates in the social dialogue as a member of the BUSINESSEUROPE delegation.

Briefly, the involvement of the social partners at the European level can be distinguished in three different types of activities: 1) bipartite consultation, which takes place between the social partner organisations and the European public authorities; 2) consultation of the social partners, in the spirit of Article 154 of the Treaty and 3) the European social dialogue, which is the name given to the bipartite work of the social partners, whether or not it stems from the official consultations of the Commission based on Articles 154 and 155 of the Treaty.

Through this Resource Centre, the ETUC aims to provide information and practical assistance to social partner representatives (and especially trade union organisations) as well as practitioners in industrial relations on policy and legislative developments on European social dialogue. The Resource Centre has been developed under the framework of the work programmes of the European social partner organisations.
The context

- Tripartite Social Summit of March 1, 2012;
- Europe at crossroads;
- Structural reforms and employment situation in Europe.

The scope

- Autonomous activities;
- European social partners will continue to take steps outside of the work programme;
- Covers a period of three years.
Priority on employment, including youth employment.

Employers and trade unions have agreed to undertake 8 joint activities:

1. Negotiate a framework of actions on youth employment;

2. Conduct an in-depth employment analysis;

3. Look at two new issues in the context of the 2002 framework of actions on lifelong learning:
   - skills’ needs in greening economies and;
   - update and upgrade the skills of older workers in the context of longer working lives;
4. Address remaining inequalities between women and men, including the gender pay gap, building upon outcomes of the implementation of the 2005 framework of actions on gender equality;

5. Address mobility and economic migration issues;

6. Look at how the EU economic governance touches the competences of social partners;

7. Run joint projects on capacity building, including in the Southern shore of the Mediterranean;

8. Continue to ensure better impact and/or implementation of their joint texts and instruments.
